Coast Electric holds membership meeting

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The annual membership meeting of Coast Electric Power Association was held Friday at the Gumbo Festival's grounds at Necaise Crossing.

Henry Thomas, power company manager, in his report to members said the local power company had the fastest growth in the state.

Thomas stated, "In the United States there are 909 power companies, we were faster growing than 90 percent of the nation, and the fastest in the state of Mississippi."

Coast Electric's headquarters are in Bay St. Louis, and services the rural areas of Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River Counties.

Thomas talked about the growth in membership of the company, as well as in the number of employees and modern facilities.

In some of the comparisons of departments of today against 1950 Thomas said:

- Engineering department three, today 13;
- Right-A-Way crews one, today two crews and three contract crews;
- One construction crew then, now six;

—Two servicemen for Hancock County, now five;

—A rented office in the Methodist Church's Annex then, now own headquarters facilities on US-90 Bay St. Louis, offices in Piquette and Gulfport, and lease offices in Biloxi and Poplarville.

"Coast Electric added some 1400 new meters in the first six months of 1984 according to Thomas who said, "These were new customers, not meter changes for people move from one area to another."

The fastest growing area served by Coast Electric during last year was in South Pearl River County, Thomas stated.

Outages by the power company were the lowest in the nation in the last year according to Thomas who reported only 2.19 hours per customer.

The maintenance department was referred to as being a "model in the utility industry", by Thomas.

Coast Electric offers customers 24-hour service and was a pioneer in the industry in hiring disabled persons as dispatchers, Thomas said.

The membership enjoyed entertainment and a dinner which included chicken, gumbo, and potato salad.

Preliminary tests show Edwards Bayou polluted

By DENA BISNETTE

Preliminary results from some of the water quality tests taken on Edwards Bayou last week indicate that the water there is suffering some impact from pollutants.

Whether the pollutants came from treated sewage effluent discharged into the bayou from the Waveland wastewater treatment plant, septic tanks along the bayou or natural causes is not yet known, according to Robert Seyforth of the Mississippi Bureau of Pollution Control.

Seyforth said final test results will be available in about three weeks. The results will be fed into a computer model to obtain more information, which will take an additional five weeks.

The tests, taken this week by Seyforth and Mark Johnson and Jim Harrison of the US Environmental Protection Agency's regional office in Atlanta, Ga., will be used to see what effect increasing the amount of sewage effluent discharged into the bayou could cause.

The bayou presently receives treated sewage effluent from the Waveland wastewater treatment plant.

However, the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District has proposed a linkage of the Bay St. Louis sewage system with the Waveland system, sending effluent from both cities to be treated at the plant and discharged into Edwards Bayou.

The effluent from the Bay lagoon is presently released into Watts Bayou, which was also tested.

"Our immediate impression is that the Waveland plant is doing a pretty good job for Edwards, but we think there is no doubt that taking the Bay St. Louis lagoon off line would make a definite improvement in Watts Bayou," Seyforth said.

"I think our tests in Edwards Bayou indicate that there is some impact in the bayou from pollutants that come from either the discharge of the effluent or from the septic tanks along the river."

He said the problem may also result from natural causes, since one of the indicators of pollution found was a fluctuation in the water's dissolved oxygen that may indicate abnormally high incidence of algae growth.

There is also a possibility that the

Pay raises excessive, supervisors discover

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County supervisors voted themselves a $5,000 raise Thursday, but will have to cut it before it becomes effective because of a legal statute and a numerical error.

According to Mississippi law, the supervisors are entitled to a raise because their pay is based on the assessed valuation of the county and that valuation has increased.

The statute, however, puts a limit on their pay that is directly proportional to the assessed valuation, and the board went over the limit because someone incorrectly estimated how much to add to the current salary for a supervisor.

Board attorney Walter Gex III said the problem will be corrected at Monday's meeting.

"I recommend that we correct it as a scrivener's error in the minutes, but if we had worded it 'according to statute' instead of specifically stating '$5,000' we would not even have the problem," he explained.

At the meeting, the amount given as the current salary was $17,100, but Gex said Friday that the correct amount is $16,500.

"The supervisors could tell you the amount of their take-home pay but they don't know what their gross pay is," he commented.

Adding $5,000 would have made the total salary $21,500, higher than the $20,100 the statute allows at the county's present valuation of $125 million, but a $3,000 raise is compatible with the statute, according to Board President A.A. "Dolph" Kellar.

Gex said the error was discovered when a newspaper reporter checked the statute with the state attorney general's office after Thursday's meeting.

In another matter related to salaries, the supervisors approved a new pay scale for county employees.

The new salaries go into effect Oct. 1 and include raises ranging from $40.80

Chamber board endorses jail bond issue

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, at its regular meeting Tuesday night, unanimously endorsed the urgent need for a new Hancock County jail, according to Pat Harvill, chamber president.

"The board feels the need for a new jail in Hancock County is of paramount importance," she said, "and several of our board members are also serving on the publicity committee, whose main purpose is to publicly tell the need for a new jail."

"As far as a location for the new jail, the board knows this decision will ultimately rest with the Hancock County Board of Supervisors," Harvill continued, "so we just urge every registered voter in the county to get out and vote for the new jail bond issue."

Armed robbery, burglaries keep local police busy

By ELLIS CUEVAS

An armed robbery in Waveland, and four burglaries in Bay St. Louis Friday night are being investigated by respective police departments.

Bay Police Investigator Joe Pica reported the Post Office, Ladner's Seafood, Dan B's Lounge, and Dock of the Bay were all burglarized sometime during Friday night.

Pica said, "Packages, mail in large envelopes were among items taken from the post office and reported by the early morning crew on Saturday. Postal investigators are also working on the case."

Shrimp, beer, and an ice chest were reported missing from Ladner's Seafood.

Some cash, ham, and bread were among items missing from Dan B's.

Dock of the Bay tee-shirts, liquor, band equipment, and food items were listed as missing.

The Bay cases are being handled by Pica with assistance from Sgt. Judy Childs, Patrolman Bill Brown, and Jesse Barnett.

An armed robbery occurred at about 5:15 a.m. Saturday at the Jr. Food Store on US-90 near Nicholson Avenue, the second within three weeks, according to Patrolman John Wilkerson.

A suspect is being sought who fits the same description as previous armed robbers of the convenience store, the spokesman stated.

Waveland Investigator Robert (Poochy) Tartayouille is in charge of the case with assistance from Patrolman Chuck James and Oscar Thomas.

Waveland Police distributed list of serial numbers of marked two and one-hundred dollar bills to merchants taken during the armed robbery.

The serial numbers of the four two-dollar bills were listed as: F02485602A, P07429881A, F08726621A, and F41284654A, series 1976.

Serial numbers of the marked one-hundred dollar bills were, F01829126A, and A00294228A.

Waveland Patrolman Mike Pengergast is also investigating the Thursday night burglary of the Bluewater Seafood located on US-90.

Pengergast said that Mr. and Mrs. Donald Arthur Titus discovered someone had entered the building sometime during the night when they opened on Friday morning.

Seafood including stuffed crabs, shrimp, oysters, and soft drinks were among the items missing.

Quotables by CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams retires today after 19 years with the department.

We wish Chief Williams well in his retirement and hope that he will be able to do those things he never had time for during his career.

Chief Williams received a very nice letter from Governor Bill Allain this week offering congratulations and best wishes.

This is a fine honor and we know he will cherish the letter for years to come.

During his retirement his wife says she has planned many odd jobs to keep him busy, as there are things he never had time to do around the house as police chief.

We are sure he will still find time to move about the city and chat with his so many friends, and not have to worry about a police radio or telephone.

We know Mrs. Williams will keep a close eye on you, Chief, and we hope both of you enjoy your deserved and earned retirement.

If you missed it on Thursday, Friday or Saturday of this week, you still have a chance to see it the same days this week.

The 'it' we are talking about is the Krewe of Triton and Bay St. Louis Little Theatre play, 'Never Get Smart with an Angel.'

We have received very good reports on the play and the superb performance of the cast. Goodness, Edgar Perez is even one of them.

Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, Boardman Avenue, and tickets are $6 each.

Tickets can be purchased at Pizza Hut, Princess Dress Shoppe, LL Ltd. Fashions, Peterman's, The Unique Shop, or at the door.

The play is a comedy, so plan on having some good laughs.

If you haven't seen the play yet, you still have a choice of Thursday, Friday or Saturday to do so.

From the Governor's Office

This week I want to discuss a matter that was the subject of my very first weekly column — raising the state's alcoholic drinking age to 21.

As we discussed previously, my office is involved in a major effort to get the 1985 Legislature to increase the drinking age. We have organized a number of activities to gain public support for this movement, and the next step begins in October.

The Governor's Highway Safety Program will sponsor three public hearings to get your input on raising the drinking age. The hearings are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Tupelo Public Library on Oct. 11, Jackson City Hall on Oct. 18, and Hattiesburg's Saenger Theater on Oct. 25.

I urge every Mississippian who is interested in raising the drinking age to attend and participate in these hearings. I or a representative of my staff will be present for each hearing, and we hope the hearings will give us the strong support necessary to get this legislation approved next year.

Individuals who want to testify at the hearings should call the Governor's Service Line at 961-4042 in Jackson or toll-free at 1-800-222-7622 to reserve time on the program.

Written testimony may be sent to the Governor's Highway Safety Program, Suite 246, 510 George Street, Jackson 39201.

The hearings will include a presentation from the Governor's Office, an overview of the problem of driving under the influence, and comments from the public.

We will involve legislators from both the House and Senate who serve on the committees likely to consider the legislation.

Since we initiated our "Mississippi 21" campaign to raise the drinking age, I have heard from citizens across the state who support this effort.

These hearings are your opportunity to communicate your strong feelings to those who will make the final decision — to the legislators.

My office, through the Governor's Highway Safety Program, is trying to spread the word across Mississippi of the severity of the problem of drinking and driving, especially among teenagers.

To reiterate, teenagers were involved in 19 percent, or 117, of all fatal traffic accidents in Mississippi last year, but they only comprise nine percent of all licensed drivers in the state.

Drinking in high school is Mississippi's No. 1 drug problem. Some 60 percent of all fatally injured teenage drivers have alcohol in their blood.

Twenty-three states have raised their legal drinking age to 21. Studies in those states show an average reduction of 26 percent in fatal accidents involving teenagers.

In final preparation for the legislative session, my office will sponsor a statewide conference in Jackson on drunken driving on Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

If we all work together, along with the Legislature, I believe we will be successful next year in raising the drinking age to 21. Again, I encourage you to participate in all these activities leading up to the legislative session, and I appreciate your past support on this issue.

'Target area' limitations discriminate against taxpayers

Dear Editor,
I signed up for the ten thousand dollar grant program a few months after it was approved, and all I have gotten out of it is the runaround.
I'm a taxpayer and I don't think it's fair to other citizens of Bay St. Louis to be excluded from the program just because we don't live in the target area. The target area should be scattered all over where it's needed.

Beachfront condos considered a hazard

Sept. 25, 1984
To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis, Ms 39520

Dear Editor:
I am enclosing a copy of a proposed ordinance, already delivered to the members of the Bay St. Louis, City Council (unofficially) for their study and comment.

I would like for you through your good paper to allow your readers the opportunity of the same study and comment.

My interest is community-wide and without the interest and support of the community my effort is in vain.

I beg our people to beware of condominiums on Beach Boulevard, especially on water lots, because of congestion, fire hazards and untold damages in time of a hurricane.

In addition there will be city expenses, as I am concerned about the question of homestead exemption due the owners.

Sincerely,
NORTON HAAS
Bay St. Louis

INSOMNIA

I have trouble falling asleep, but I don't want to start taking sleeping pills. What else can I do?

Not all people need the same amount of sleep. For instance, some healthy adults sleep three or four hours every night without apparent ill effects. Others may need 10 to 12 hours, or they'll feel tired the next day.

A person has insomnia if his inability to sleep interferes chronically with his efficient daytime functions, regardless of how many hours he sleeps each night. Surveys have shown that as many as 30 percent of Americans suffer from insomnia to some degree.

Insomnia is not that difficult to cure, and worrying about it only makes it worse. You can help yourself fall asleep each night and wake up refreshed the next morning by following a few simple steps:

1. Rid yourself of stress before bedtime. Don't dwell on the day's unsolved problems. Don't say "I should have done that." Instead, think "I could have done that, and I will soon."

2. Regular daily exercise, such as jogging, swimming, tennis or brisk walking, will help you sleep better at night. But occasional, one-shot exercise doesn't directly influence sleep that night.

3. Some quiet exercises before bedtime can help you fall asleep more easily. To help yourself relax, lie down on the floor or sofa and relax your body, one part at a time. Breathe from your abdomen, and as you inhale, feel the breath seeping into all parts of your body, gently massaging all the places that are tired and sore. Now, keep breathing this way and concentrate on the rhythm of your inhaleds and exhaleds. You'll find yourself slowly relaxing, getting ready for a good night's sleep.

4. Establish a definite bedtime routine for yourself. Don't use your bedroom for working, studying or watching television. Think of it as a quiet, restful place for sleep.

5. Avoid taking naps during the day.

6. Plan to go to bed at the same time every night, and get up at the same time every morning. This is all part of a healthy bedtime routine.

7. Don't sleep more than you need to feel refreshed, because excessively long periods in bed seem to be related to fragmented and shallow sleep.

8. A heavy meal close to bedtime may keep you awake. However, a light bedtime snack, like a glass of warm milk or a bowl of cereal and milk, seems to help some people sleep.

9. Avoid drinking such caffeine-containing beverages as tea, coffee, chocolate and cola drinks in the evening.

10. There's no evidence that an excessively cold room helps you sleep more soundly, but studies have shown that a warm room, above 75°, can keep a person awake or cause fitful sleep.

11. Noise also can disrupt sleep. If this is a problem, you might consider wearing earplugs.

12. If you climb into bed and can't fall asleep, it means that your body is not ready to sleep. So instead of worrying, turn on the light and read. And relax. Worry will only keep you awake.

If insomnia continues to be a persistent problem after you've tried all the above suggestions, it may mean that something more serious is disturbing your sleep. In this case, you may consider seeking professional help. Sleep medication is rarely of any use other than a temporary basis, and if used on a longterm basis, it usually becomes an additional problem.

Arson investigation continues

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

An early morning Friday fire in the Bayou Phillips area which destroyed a house and car was arson, said Hancock County Sheriff's Office Arson Investigator, Ed Friloux.

"It was clearly arson," Friloux said. "The first unit to arrive on the scene, saw the house intact with the interior completely in flames."

"The house had erupted in flames," he said. He said in addition to the fact that there was neither power or electricity hooked up at the house, there was evidence at the scene which indicated the fire was not an accident.

The house, owned by Peter Willis, and a car parked nearby were destroyed by the fire, said Friloux. He estimated the value of the house at $15,000 and the car at $2,000.

Friloux said that two calls, seven minutes apart, were made reporting the fire, with the first one at 12:19 a.m. One caller said the house had exploded and the other said that there were two kids inside the house.

"Units were hampered in finding the location of the fire," Friloux said, "because of unclear directions given by both the callers."

But Friloux said the first vehicle was able to locate the scene of the fire within seven minutes of the first call.

"Units were delayed because of the unclear directions given by those reporting the fire," he said.

Veteran firefighter, Friloux, urged people reporting fires to remain calm, state their name, tell the type of fire and give as many details on the location of the fire as possible.

Friloux said because of the report of the children in the house, firefighters completely extinguished the fire and cooled down the site.

"Usually in scarce water conditions, we let the ashes cool down naturally, after bringing a fire under control," he said.

Friloux said congratulated the volunteer firefighters on their fine job of containing the fire and for helping with the search which followed.

Volunteer firefighters from the Bayside, East Hancock and the Clermont Harbor Fire Departments responded to the call.

Members of the arson squad and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department also answered the call.

Bay Tigers take first win over Vancleave Bulldogs

By DENA BISNETTE

Bay St. Louis High School took its first win of the season Friday by beating the Vancleave Bulldogs 26-8.

"Last night was possibly the turning point for our program," said Head Coach Cleveland Williams.

"All those kids did a real good job and our game plan paid off. We made Smith run more," he commented after the game.

"We didn't do too much that was different from what we did against Pearl River Central last week except to use a different running scheme. We had a passing attack but we didn't have to use it," he added.

"We had over 200 yards rushing and that shows that we're progressing. Things are starting to come together," the coach said.

"We were able to stop (John) Warren, their running back, and that's what we needed to do on defense," he said.

Although there was good blocking throughout the game, Williams said the defense broke down a few times. He said he was more pleased with the play of his offensive line, but considered both offensive and defensive play good team efforts.

Bay High started the scoring for the night with a 10-yard touchdown run by Jeffrey Smith with 6:28 to go in the first quarter.

Smith switched from the ground to the air for the second touchdown, when he threw a pass to Eddie Nelson for a total of 55 yards. An extra point attempt was no good and the score stood at 12-0 at the half.

Trace McRaney intercepted a Bulldog pass to give the Tigers another try at scoring, but the half ended before they could move the ball over the goal line.

The Tigers got the ball with 6:20 to go in the third quarter when Richard Whavers picked it up after a Vancleave receiver missed it on a punt return. Less than a minute later, Smith ran a quarterback sneak up the middle for the night's third Tiger touchdown.

The score was brought to 19-0 with a good kick by Stace McRaney, playing in his first game of the season after being sidelined with an injured hand.

Smith repeated his on-the-ground performance of earlier with a running play late in the third quarter but added more impressive yardage when he scored an 85-yard touchdown.

McRaney followed up with another good kick to bring the score to 26-0.

Vancleave saved the game from being a shutout with a touchdown and a conversion for a 8-point total with less than three minutes left in the game.

"We knew they were going to score when we put more of our younger players in, but we wanted to rest our boys the fourth quarter," Williams said.

The coach said he considered Trace McRaney, Jerry Head and Greg Necaise three of the most outstanding players in the win against Vancleave.

"McRaney and Head played real well, and Necaise, who's just a 10th grader, is one kid who's really been coming along. He had a good game both offensively and defensively."

Head led the game in defensive tackling along with McRaney and Necaise. The number one rusher for the game was Richard Whavers.

Pirates sail over Hawks, 25-7

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

With a scoring drive made on their first possession of the ball, the Pass Christian Pirates plundered their way through the North Hancock Central defense to take a 25-7 win Friday night. "This was an emotional game," said Pirate head coach Alton Wright after the game, "as Pass Christian hasn't beaten Hancock in several years."

Mark Boyd started the Pirates drive with a kickoff return from the six-yard line to the 30.

Following a handoff from quarterback Joey Rogers, Winston Ausmer began an outstanding run which carried him to the two-yard line. This run put the Pirates a first and goal in the first minute of the game.

With 11:05 left in the first quarter, Boyd crossed the goal line to score for the Pirates.

Hancock North Central Hawk starter, Steve McQueen was injured on their return of the Pirates kickoff and out for the rest of the game. (McQueen was cited last week by Hawk coach Irvin Favre for his outstanding play.)

Following a 15-yard penalty on the return the Hawks were unable to get enough momentum to move the ball and had to punt on fourth down and nine.

The Pirates took over on their own 40-yard line. Rogers rushed for eight yards before handing off to Omar Saahir for a gain of nearly two yards.

Fourth down and inches Rogers carried again to make the first and 10. Runs by Rogers and Tony Howell netted another first down on the Hawk 15-yard line.

The Pirates steamed ahead and had first and goal again before losing 14 yards on a fumble.

Hawk quarterback Melton Lewis knocked a Pirate pass intended for Boyd away.

Refusing to be stopped from scoring, the Pirates added a field goal. The 34-yard field goal was kicked by Otis Gates.

A Hawk drive was stopped by a fumble recovered by the Pirates on the Hawk 35.

Howell rushed for three yards but the Pirates were put back 15 yards on a penalty for illegal use of hands. They were forced to punt following another penalty and the Hawks had first and 10 on their own 10 yard line.

Lewis stumbled on a throw and was intercepted.

The Pirates quickly moved with field goal range and Gates scored with a 39-yard kick.

Hancock North Central offensive players began a drive which gained them four first and ten situations before Pirate splinter Boyd, picked off a Lewis pass.

Pass Christian didn't get started before fumbling and Hawk Frank Ladner recovered the ball.

With first and 10 on the Pirate 14, Lewis handed off to Charles Burton who pushed ahead, putting the Hawks in a second and five position. Ladner steamed through to score for the Hawks just minutes before the halftime. The PAT was good and at the end of the second quarter, the score was 12-7.

Penalties marked the beginning of the second half as the two teams were penalized 50 yards in the first five minutes.

The Pirates had their second touchdown in the third quarter. Rogers ran in from four yards out to score. The extra point attempt was blocked.

The Hawks had to punt after only gaining five yards and the Pirates made four first downs before scoring again.

Howell went through the middle to score with only seconds left in the third quarter. Gates made the extra point.

Two fumbles marred the Hawks next drive. They recovered one with a loss of two yards but Pirate Pat McDonald got the second one.

Boyd took a Rogers pass into the end zone, but referees ruled he had stepped out of bounds.

Only a few plays later, Rogers passed deep to Irvin Hall who picked off the ball in the endzone, but a holding penalty against the Pirates nullified the score. On fourth and 20 the Pirates punted.

The Hawks began a drive on their own 24 and gained another first down before, quarterback Melton Lewis was injured.

Delano Lewis came in as QB and rushed for five yards before the Hawks had to punt.

Incomplete passes, penalties and three interceptions marked the remaining time in the game before the final seconds ticked off with the Pirates winning, 25-7.

Hawk coach Favre said his team had played well the first half but were outplayed in the second.

"Injuries and mistakes cost us the game," he said, "We just have to regroup and be ready for next week."

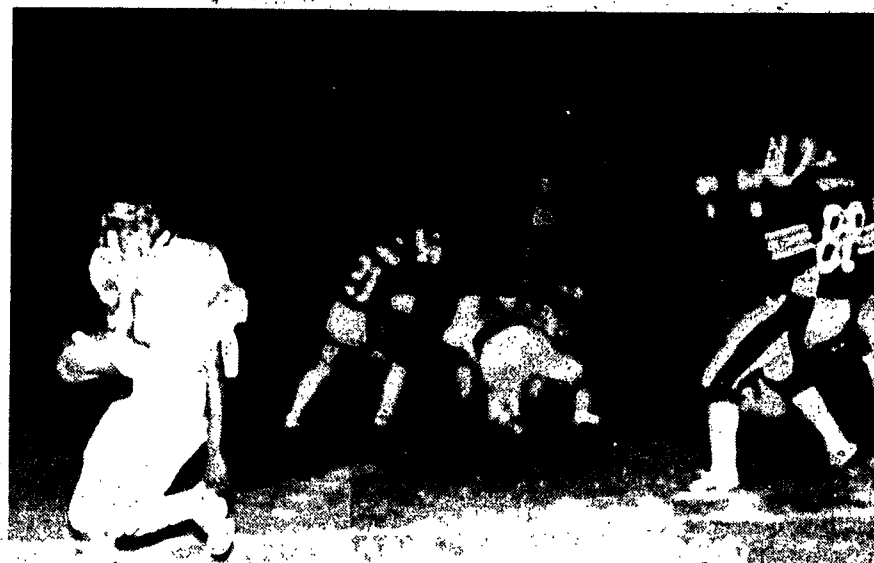

Wright, coach for the Pirates, said his team had played a good game both offensively and defensively.

"Changing Allen Dedeaux helped to balance our offense," he said.

The move of Dedeaux appeared to be somewhat of a surprise for the Hawks defense. Wright makes a change or two in strategy each week with his Pirates.

In addition to Dedeaux, the blocking of the offensive line by Anthony Woods, Herbert Dedeaux, Chris Vincent, Jason Dedeaux and George Green all received special praises from Wright.

Next week the Pirates, who have won three games in a row, will host undefeated Stone County and the Hawks will travel to East Central.

UNTOUCHED FOR TD—Tony Howell, No. 20 of Pass Christian scores a 5-yard TD untouched behind good offensive blocking Friday against Hancock North Central. Howell setup the first touchdown of the game on the Pirates first offensive play of the game for Pass Christian on a 65-yard run to the Hawks 5-yard line. In a balanced attack, the Pirates defeated the Hawks 25-7 for their third victory of the season. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

BURTON EXPRESS—Charles Burton, No. 30, swift Hancock North Central back takes off for long gain on Friday in action against Hancock North Central. The Hawks suffering from numerous player injuries this season stayed close to the Pirates until the visitors exploded for two quick touchdowns in third quarter action. The final score was 25-7 in favor of the Pirates. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Rock-a-chaws edged by Bearcats

By TOM ACKERMAN

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Before they traveled to Long Beach Friday night, the Saint Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws knew they were going to have their work cut out for them. And when the final whistle blew, the Rocks found themselves on the short end of a 12-9 score.

In the first minutes of play, it appeared the Rocks had heeded head coach Vernon Powell's instructions about playing team ball and correcting the fundamental mistakes that have plagued the Rocks even in their three previous victories over Hancock, St. John, and Mercy Cross.

On the opening kickoff, Long Beach receiving, Rock David Williams recovered a Bearcat fumble at the Long Beach 35, and the Rock-a-chaws took possession.

Then SSC began their drive to an early lead with a fieldgoal from nineteen yards out by Eric Doyle. After losing five yards for offsides on the first play of the series, Rock running back Mark Logan gained five yards. After an incomplete pass attempt by Rock Quarterback Matt Scardino, Running back Todd Thrifley connected on the next Scardino pass and scurried to the 15 for a Stanislaus first down.

Two runs later, one by Chuck Yarbrough and the other by Mark Logan, both straight up the middle, the Rocks were in fieldgoal position at the 9.

With 7:53 showing on the clock, SSC took a slim lead, 3-0.

Early in the second period, the Bearcats began their drive toward their first score at their own 41: Nine plays and three first downs later, the Cats had taken over the lead.

Trading plays between Mike Lawson and Joey Hebert, Cat Quarterback Chris Boszor moved his team to the SSC 15.

With 6:32 showing on the first half clock, Boszor connected with Hebert on a pass in the end zone, and, after a failed PAT, Long Beach took a 6-3 lead into the lockers.

The second half began as almost a replay of the first, only this time, it was the Rocks who found themselves losing possession on the opening kickoff.

Rock Todd Thrifley received and returned to the SSC 38 only to give up the ball to Long Beach. The Cats couldn't capitalize on the advantage. The Rocks held and took over on their own 25.

The Rocks and Cats continued to swap the ball for the rest of the period, with neither team managing to mount an effective drive.

Late in the third period, Rock QB Scardino started the drive toward the only SSC TD with a keeper from the Long Beach 42 to the Stanislaus 25. Yarbrough moved it to the 22 to end the period.

On the Rocks' first play of the final period, the second of the series, Thrifley lost yards on a carry. Then, after a failed pass, fourth down, Scardino connected with Mark Logan who carried to the 1 for a first down.

to $216.67 per month.

The increases were made to bring all employees making less than $4 per hour up to $4 per hour and to equalize the amount of pay.

Kellar said the board became aware about three months ago that some of the employees were not being paid up to scale and calculated the raises to correct inequities.

The department with the largest raises was the tax assessor and collectors office, where increases ranged from $50 to $216. Tax Assessor and Collector Edward Murtagh told the board that most of the employees in that office had been paid below scale for several years.

In other business, the board passed a resolution agreeing that the county will maintain Texas Flat Road if the US Army paves it; agreed to clean up a lot on Carroll Avenue; and formally abandoned maintenance of part of a county road

Washington Road Bridge keeps most of the effluent in the upper part of the bayou, he added. If that proves to be a problem, it may be corrected by putting the discharge point on the other side of the bridge.

"There are a lot of questions we plan to try to answer about Edwards Bayou," Seyforth said.

He said preliminary results do not give enough information to make conclusions, but he speculates that Edwards Bayou is the second most suitable discharge site in the county.

"We did two tests, one upstream and one downstream, on the Jourdan River because its tidal movement has an effect on Edwards. We got indications that the river is the best site, but the people don't want it there so we're trying to decide how we can best protect Edwards Bayou," he explained.

Hebert once again carried Long Beach regaining 12-9, with 7:47 left in the game. The Rocks didn't but they couldn't get on the breaks that came their way during the final minutes of play.

After losing the ball on a play at their own 33, Rock Zanca stripped the ball away from the LB runner and carried till he was run out of bounds at the 50.

In the confusion that followed, Long Beach was cited with a tripping infraction, bringing the ball to the LB 35. But the Rocks were halted on three incomplete passes at the 34.

Long Beach took over and kept possession for the remaining time.

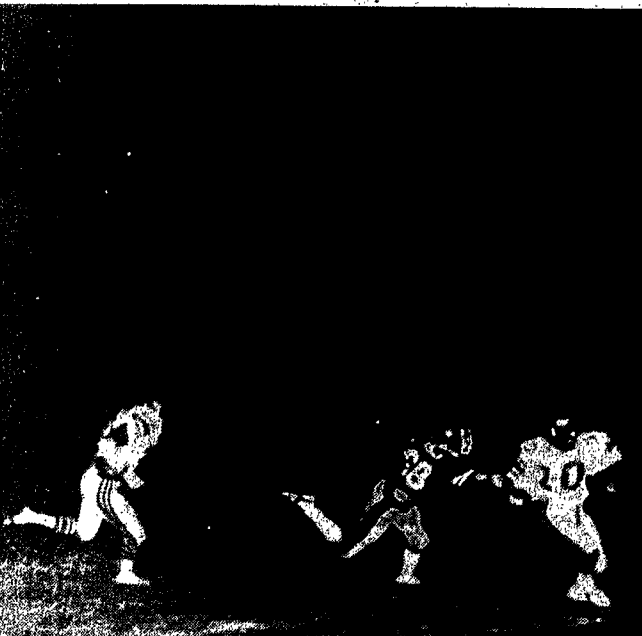

With three wins and one loss under the belts, the Rock-a-chaws now face what will probably be their toughest contest of the season. This Friday they meet arch-rival Bay High at the Saint Stanislaus Stadium.

In what promises to be the highlight of the season, the Rocks will be going for win number four, while the Tigers will be looking for number 2. But when these two teams meet, you can throw the record book out the window. And with Bay High fresh off their win over Vanceleave 26-8, they'll be gunning for the Rocks.

In recent years, the Rocks have been unable to overcome the Tigers in their yearly duel; but this is also the first time in recent years the Rocks have won their first three games. You will have to get to the stadium early to get a seat folks, remember kick-off is 7:30, Friday, at Rock-a-Chaw stadium.

Gilmore—Frisbie

Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis was the setting for the September 8 marriage of Joelyn Elizabeth Frisbie and Timothy Caldwell Gilmore. The Reverend Charles R. Johnson officiated the 4 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Morris Frisbie of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gary Taylor Gilmore of Bay St. Louis.

Arrangements of candlelight roses and ivy adorned the altar with palm greenery and ivory tapers completing the wedding setting. Satin ribbons and ivy marked the family pews.

Music selections were presented by Miss Helene Giles of New Orleans, Reverend Ronald Skinner of Waveland, and John Mason of Bay St. Louis, with Mrs. Ben Hille as organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown designed by Pamela Sherrod of New Orleans.

The gown was of candlelight silk taffeta, English net overlaid with Alencon lace, point d'esprit embroidery and seed pearls. The bodice featured long Elizabethan sleeves with basque waistline, a sheer back dipping gracefully to the waist descending to a cathedral train delicately appliqued with Alencon lace and seed pearls.

A shoulder length veil of candlelight English tulle bordered in ivory tatting fell from a heavily encrusted tiara of pearls and crystal flowers.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of candlelight roses and English ivy.

Miss Susan Clare Truett of New Orleans served as maid of honor.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. James Andrew Waggoner and Miss Cynthia Fitzpatrick both of Pass Christian; Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Leslie Irwin, Mrs. Thomas Koger, Miss Barbara Boyd, cousin of the bride, and Miss Jennifer Gilmore, sister of the groom, all of

Bay St. Louis.

The attendants were identically attired in original tea length candlelight lace gowns softly gathered at the waist with matching taffeta cummerbunds. They carried New Testaments covered in antique ivory lace and topped with sweetheart roses with satin streamers that matched their headpieces.

Miss Katrina Nordin, flower girl, wore a French handsewn ivory batiste creation with smoked collar and carried a basket of rose petals.

Mr. Gilmore served his son as best man.

Groomsmen were Taylor Gilmore and R. Sean Gilmore, brothers of the groom, both of Bay St. Louis; James Gilmore of New York, N.Y. uncle of the groom; Ken Ferrell of Hattiesburg; Michael Gottsche of Ocean Springs; Andrew King of Greenville, Miss. and Robby Boyd of New Orleans, cousin of the bride.

Serving as ushers were Bradley Morris of Columbia, Miss. and James Andrew Waggoner of Pass Christian.

The groomsmen and ushers wore traditional cutaway gray coats, striped trousers, white pique wing tip collar shirts, and gray vests with striped ascots.

Mrs. Frisbie chose for her daughter's wedding a pink tea length Irish linen dress trimmed in matching lace.

Mrs. Gilmore was attired in a teal green silk chifton tea length dress. Both mothers wore corsages of ivory rosebuds.

A garden reception was held on the lawn of the church immediately following the ceremony.

Attending the guest register were Miss Shannon Maggio and Miss Ann Truett.

Others assisting with the wedding and reception were Mrs. Margaret Hadden, Mrs. Erwin Truett, Miss Virginia Vegas, Mrs. Douglas Koger, and Mrs.

Booklet offers tips to cut health costs

Staying healthy continues to take a larger and larger bite out of the average American worker's paycheck.

Last year our nation spent an all-time high of $356 billion—nearly a billion dollars a day—on health care.

That translates to $1,500 a year for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Aetna Life & Casualty, which provides health insurance coverage for more than 13 million Americans, believes consumers can help reduce costs without sacrificing the high quality of medical care we all expect.

In a booklet now available to the general public, Aetna advocates a more consumer-oriented approach to health care.

While no one expects you to shop around for medical care in an emergency, you can plan routine care with cost-effectiveness in mind.

Of course the real trick is to stay healthy in the first place, but if you do get sick, there are many ways you can save by being an informed consumer.

Aetna's tips include:

—Second surgical opinion —If your doctor suggests non-emergency surgery, get a second opinion. If surgery is still considered necessary, you can reduce costs through outpatient or "same day" surgery. Certain plastic and cosmetic surgery, tonsillectomies and bunionectomies are just some of the many procedures that can be performed in an outpatient or ambulatory surgery center. You'll eliminate the costs of hospital room and board and you'll avoid confinement in a hospital away from family and friends.

—Pre-admission testing —It can cut your hospital stay, reduce your medical bill and free hospital beds for patients who really need them.

—Home recovery —This is often an attractive alternative to costly hospital care. It's more convenient and it offers the psychological benefits of being in familiar surroundings. Studies show a day of home care costs about one-fifth the cost of a day in the hospital.

—Generic drugs —They're less expensive than brand-name drugs and can produce the same effect. Therapeutically equivalent generics offer a substantial cost-saving.

If you take advantage of these basic ways to reduce health costs, you'll help control the spiraling cost of health care.

Aetna offers a booklet entitled "Speaking Out on Rising Health Care Costs—What You Can Do." Single copies are free. Additional copies are 50 cents apiece. To order, write Aetna Life & Casualty, P.R. Resources DA21, 151

Blue Jeans Garden Club

The Blue Jeans Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Jean Sehart, Waveland last Thursday for the first meeting of the fall season.

The meeting was opened with a prayer led by Mrs. Talmadge Conway and Mrs. A.M. Thomas, president, presided with 15 members in attendance.

Mrs. Jennie Ortiz, vice president, gave each attending member a copy of the Blue Jeans revised by-laws.

Mrs. Pere Cabibi, program chairlady, presented an interesting and informative program on "Ever Blooming Miniature Roses."

Winners in the various categories judged by members were: Cultivated, Mrs. J.C. Goodloe; Miniature, Mrs. Pere Cabibi; Potted, Mrs. Gloria Norton; Horticulture, Mrs. Lloyd Garcia; Wild, Mrs. Shirley Cox; and Dried, Mrs. A.M. Thomas.

Door prize was won by Mrs. Beverly Coogan.

Co-hostess with Mrs. Sehart for the social following the meeting with Mrs. Cox.

Next meeting is October 18 at noon.

American Legion Post 77 Unit Auxiliary

A meeting of Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post 77 Unit Auxiliary was held recently, and President Eleanor Marsh completed her selection of committee chairpersons for the year with the appointment of the following: Jeanne Garcia, Community Service; Velma Smith, Music; Pere Cabibi, Past Presidents' Parlay.

Also, the identity of the 1984-85 Poppy Girl, Missy Revere, was revealed.

The group voted to participate in the Annual Fair at the Gulfport VA on October 10 and to contribute canteen books for the patients. The special needs of the women veterans were addressed—donations of clothes, writing papers, art supplies (i.e. paint brushes, crayons, paper) are really appreciated by them. Additionally, the annual Membership Dance and various fund-raising projects were discussed, and a pledge of support made to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

President Marsh concluded the meeting by commending the membership on the Unit's grand showing at the State Convention. Beaming proudly, she exclaimed: "We received so many awards at the convention that we are going to run out of space to display them!"

Friendship Oak DAR

Once each year naturalized citizens who have met through the study of the DAR Manual for Citizenship are invited to tea in the home of Joe Pilet on Highland Drive in Bay St. Louis. They are urged to bring friends from other countries who are either living or visiting in the area.

The group met on Tuesday, September 25 with Mrs. Elisa Chong of Panama designated as guest of honor. Mrs. Chong is a house guest of her niece, Mrs. Florence Duffie, and is an authority on Panamanian folk art. She gave the group some interesting points on how to select the mola, a reverse applique designed made by the Cuna Indians who live on Panama's San Blas Islands. Examples of both framed and unframed molas were examined by the group.

Youngest person in attendance was four-years-old Monica Chong, the charming Oriental adopted granddaughter. Mrs. Chong explained that her unmarried daughter Miss Rosemary Chong wished to adopt a child and arrangements were made through welfare agency for the legal adoption of Monica who is currently attending The Main Street United Methodist kindergarten and rapidly learning to speak English. Monica busied herself playing with a hand puppet and other trinkets in a "busy box" provided by the hostess.

Two Certificates of Awards were presented by the Friendship Oak Chapter NS DAR. Mrs. Alicia Caddell of Waveland accepted an award for her outstanding leadership in assisting new comers while Mrs. Duffie Received the historic preservation award.

In making the presentations Mrs. Pilet said: "We are delighted to have a part in helping foreign born to become citizens of the United States." She said copies of the DAR Manual for Citizenship had been placed in the several local libraries, and copies were available free of charge to those wishing to study in preparation for citizenship.

"Decorative Arts from Far and Near" were displayed and discussed including wood carvings, pottery, textiles, sand bottle art, needle crafts and weaving. Space was devoted to an exhibit of pottery designed by Mrs. Duffie who fashions wheel thrown, high fired stoneware in her Back Yard Pottery on Main Street.

Mrs. Pilet complimented the group by saying: "You people deserve a lot of credit for you are doing all you can to improve the quality of citizenship in your communities."

Recounting some of the talents it was pointed out that Mrs. Sue Torgeson, formerly of Japan, has filled much needed nursing services for years. She showed pictures of a recent return trip to Tokyo and Hong Kong.

Mrs. Christina Maria Villalobos, now retired and living in Ocean Springs, was for many years employed at St. Stanislaus; Mrs. Caddell is now a registered beautician.

Mrs. Marie Thompson gave an entertaining account of her experiences as a missionary in Israel and Ms. Kari Yarbrough discussed her Red Cross career.

Following the tea service the group toured the patio and grounds where tips on successful gardening were exchanged.

"It was absolutely beautiful to see how our naturalized citizens responded to our Constitution Week observance," Mrs. Pilet said while pointing out that several made posters and entered contests sponsored by the Friendship Oak Chapter. "We had an essay winner," she explained and nodded toward Mrs. Caddell who replied: "Now I have two American flags. One was given when I became a citizen of the United States—and now that lovely flag kit."

Brief

LARGEST BIRD

The largest bird in the world, the ostrich, is a strange bird, says 'International Wildlife' magazine. A male ostrich typically stands seven feet tall, weighs 260 pounds, runs up to 50 miles an hour with strides as long as 15 feet and packs a kick of up to 500 pounds per square inch. Yet, the bird stops when a person waves a thorn-tree branch in its face.

CAT FOR ADOPTION—A striped cat pulls up a desk blotter at the Hancock County Animal Shelter as if she is searching for something underneath. The actual searching is being done by shelter volunteers who are trying to find homes for the cat and other pets. Anyone interested in adopting the cat or a homeless pet like her can call the shelter at 467-0230. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

WAITING FOR A HOME—A half-grown black male dog lounges on a desk chair in the office of the Hancock County Animal Shelter as a volunteer checks records to see how much time is left before the animal must be placed in a home or euthanized to make room for other homeless pets. Anyone interested in adopting the dog or one of many other pets available may call the shelter at 467-0230. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Nutrition quest keener for females than males

GEORGE J. WILHELM of Bay St. Louis recently retired from Central Illinois Public Service Co. after 31 years of service. A native of Greenville, Ill., Wilhelm is an Army veteran of World War II. He is a lifetime member of the American Legion and a 1977 recipient of the Legionnaire of the Year award from Post 77 in Waveland. He holds memberships in the VFW and Waveland's Senior Citizens Club. He is married to the former Edyth Yoakum of Athens, Ill.

By Barbara McLaurin
Food and Nutrition
Specialist, Cooperative
Extension Service

A young couple dines out in a restaurant. After enthusiastically polishing off his salad, the man gobbles up a large steak, baked potato, broccoli au gratin and two rolls.

Pausing before dessert, he asks his companion why she hasn't finished her chicken Kiev, rice and green beans almonde.

Replying that she feels full, the woman ponders the injustice of her thin, tall friend stuffing himself while she fights to keep her weight down on far fewer calories.

What these two people are encountering is the gender gap in nutrition needs.

The daily calorie intake recommended for women aged 23 to 50 by the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council is about 2,000 calories, with a range of 1,600 to 2,400 calories.

For men of this age range, the recommendation is 2,300 to 3,000 calories.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's 1977-78 Nationwide Food Consumption Survey showed that the average calorie intake of women aged 23 and 24 was about 1,600 calories a day, but the average for men in the same age range was about 2,400 calories daily.

That's a 50 percent difference, meaning the male eats half again as much as the female. For example, she eats two tacos, he eats three.

Although men and women in the United States commonly consume less than the average recommended calorie intake, most maintain normal weight or may even be overweight.

It is not clear why this is so.

Whatever the reason, this lower-than-average calorie intake poses more of a problem for women than for men. A man who consumes 2,400 calories a day can obtain all the necessary nutrients more easily than a woman who consumes 1,600 or fewer calories daily.

The difference in calorie needs of men and women is related to differences in body size and composition.

The amount of energy (calories) expended through physical activity also plays a major role.

A six-foot-tall male can consume several hundred more calories without gaining weight than a five-foot, five-inch-tall woman.

Because he weighs more, the man will probably use a few more calories than a woman engaging in the same activity. Even when a woman is the same height as a man, the recommended weight for her is about 10 pounds lighter than for him.

This introduces another factor.

There is a difference in the composition of the poundage gained by boys and girls, starting at puberty.

The weight girls put on contains proportionately more fat. Boys accumulate more lean body tissue.

Fat tissue is less dense (weighs less per equal volume) than lean, so if a girl and boy add the same weight, the girl may appear to have gained more.

A girl may have almost twice the fatty tissue as a boy of the same height.

For these reasons, the recommended weight for a female at the same height is less than a male's.
